FROM THE PRINCIPAL’S DESK

Last week, I spent Thursday and Friday in Sydney at the NSW Primary Principals Association State Council. I attend these meetings once each term representing the Queanbeyan Primary Principals Council.

Our list of speakers included the Minister for Education, Adrian Piccoli, Secretary for Education, Michelle Bruniges and the Deputy Director General, Greg Prior, as well as all the Executive Directors of the various departments.

At these meetings, we hear what is happening at the state level and we are able to address any issues directly with those who make the decisions. I would like to publicly commend Minister Piccoli on the work he is doing on behalf of rural and regional schools. It is great to have a minister who understands the different nature of country schools.

Unfortunately, due to the weather, we will have to postpone our athletics track events carnival until next Tuesday, 1 April, 2014. All details will remain the same. The P & C still plan on holding a BBQ and more details will be available shortly.

Don’t forget our disco on Friday evening. Please ensure that you are aware of the start and finish times for your child’s disco and that you collect them promptly. There is nothing more upsetting to a child than thinking they have been forgotten!

On Monday, I will be escorting 20 students from Goulburn and Yass schools to Stewart House. This is a wonderful experience for these children and I urge you to support any fundraising that the school does which supports Stewart House.

Although staff are funded by the DEC, funding for the accommodation and activities is paid for through teacher salary donations and school fundraising.

Next term, teachers in stage 1 (K-2) will begin their training in Language, Literacy, Learning (L3). This is an outstanding literacy program which has shown outstanding results. If your child is in 1R, 1/2G or 2A, this means that your child’s teacher will be training for half a day every second Friday, whilst our trained teachers in Kindergarten and 1B will attend training once per term.

I look forward to seeing many of you at the P & C meeting next Tuesday night at 7.15 pm.
