This week’s value is: Responsibility
FROM THE PRINCIPAL’S DESK

As identified in our school plan, we have recently purchased 32 iPADS, two charging stations and a MacBook Pro laptop computer to use with our K-2 classes. We will be building the profiles and downloading software onto them this week and expect to have them in classes over the next week or two. This has been an investment of $30,000, which was made possible by the funds allocated to our school as a direct result of the Gonski Review. It is our hope that these funds continue to be allocated in future years.

On Thursday of next week, 30 July, we will be holding our Open Day as part of Education Week celebrations. Parents and family are able to visit the classrooms and look at some of the work students have been doing, as well as visit the library and computer lab. Open Day will be between 10.15am and 11.15 am and morning tea will be available from the canteen.

On Thursday afternoon, a fantastic anti-bullying program, the NED Show, will be presented to our students. This is a free show and assists students in identifying bullying behaviour and strategies to deal with it. To support the show, students are able to purchase yo-yos, either as a pre-order or for up to a week after the show. Please see the order form on the information note with this newsletter. If you do not wish your child to attend, please contact the school.

Last week we went live with the SKOOLBAG app which is available for free from all the various app providers. We already have about 50 subscribers and we have used it to push out a number of alerts. It is also planned to link the newsletter and other information to the app. Please also remember that information, notes etc are available on our school website.

For those families whose children are involved in the GCOPS concert next Tuesday, 28 July, the start time for the evening has been brought forward by 30 minutes to 7.00 pm.

A new information note will be sent home with your child this week which will have all the relevant times on it. The practise will go ahead on Tuesday morning at the Workers Club.
